NIGHT LAMPS

Lucky Reptile Moon Lamp

The Moon Lamp is a mini moon for the terrarium. The lamp only consumes 1W approx. As the lamp works using efficient LED technology, it produces just the right amount of light for illuminating the terrarium at night without disturbing the animals. The areas focused on by the lamp are more strongly illuminated than the edges, thus creating the effect of moonshine on a clearing in the jungle. The Moon Lamp fits all E27 lampholders and produces only a small amount of heat in order not to alter the night-time temperature drop inside the terrarium. As a local light source, the Moon Lamp is recommended mainly for taller vivariums. For small vivariums or for lighting the whole vivarium we recommend using the Lucky Reptile Night Sky LED sets.

THERMOMETERS ETC

THERMOMETERS

Lucky Reptile Infrared Thermometer

The Lucky Reptile Infrared thermometer measures the temperature of objects without the need for direct contact. Simply target the object and press the button. It is ideal for measuring the temperature in different areas of the terrarium to create optimum conditions for the inhabitants.

Infrared thermometers can only measure the temperature of objects not the air temperature.

SUBSTRATES AND CLEANING

Lucky Reptile Terrarium Humus

The Lucky Reptile humus Brick is made from natural coco humus which has been compressed into a brick. If placed in water, it will swell by about 8-10 times its volume. This humus is excellent for burrowing animals and can be used either dry or damp. It is an excellent substrate for tarantulas and tortoises as well as tropical amphibians and reptiles. The Lucky Reptile Humus Brick is a natural product (100% biodegradable) and free of chemicals, pesticides or fertilizers.
